Pursuit of an 'Unparalleled Opportunity'
The American YMCA and Prisoner of War Diplomacy among the Central Power Nations during World War I, 1914-1923.
by Kenneth Steuer

Table of Contents

Introduction
Chapter 1"Evangelizing the World" Chapter 2The American YMCA Mobilizes Chapter 3The U.S. and POW Responsibilities Chapter 4American YMCA POW Diplomacy Chapter 5Association Diplomacy Extends Chapter 6American Secretaries in Germany Chapter 7Expanding WPA Work in Germany Chapter 8"Keeping Body and Soul Together" Chapter 9Operations in Austria-Hungary Chapter 10Phildius Relief Work in Bulgaria Chapter 11Political Prisoners, Labor Detachments Chapter 12The United States Enters the War Chapter 13The Arrival of Neutral Secretaries Chapter 14POWs in Germany Chapter 15Allied Relief in the Ottoman Empire Chapter 16Armistice and Restoration of Service Chapter 17Post-War WPA Operations Chapter 18Countering the Bolshevik Threat Chapter 19Conclusion
Glossary Maps

Appendix A

Prison Camps

Media Index >> Appendix A: Prison Camps >> Turkey >> Kastamuni

Turkish Prision Camps

Kastamuni

See also:

Chap. C15, p25
See also:
Chap. C15, p26B

KASTAMUNI (KASTAMONU): This prison camp was located in the Vilayet of Kastamuni in northern Anatolia in Asia Minor. The town was situated on a tributary of the Kizul Irmak, 110 miles north-northeast of Angora. The Turks incarcerated British prisoners captured at Kut-al-Amara in several buildings in the city in July 1916, including the Greek School House and the Lower House camp which featured a chapel, library, restaurant, and badminton court. Prisoners also had access to a soccer field just outside of town.